Event Policy: Movies & Documentaries

Showing a movie or documentary must be approved by the Associate Director of Residence Life (Erica Thompson, ekthompson@stthomas.edu (<mailto:ekthompson@stthomas.edu>)) at least two weeks in advance. Connect with your CD/GSA if you want to consider this.

Public Performance License

- To show a movie or documentary at an event you need to purchase a public performance license
 - Purchase licenses for most major films from Swank Motion Pictures (<https://www.swank.com/college-campus/genres/>)

Can I use my own copy/streaming service instead?

- Unfortunately you cannot use your own copy/streaming service at an event because the viewing license is only for personal use

Do I need a license for resources from the St. Thomas film library?

- Yes, you need to purchase a public performance license as the UST library's viewing licenses are only for personal use

Can I stream the film over Zoom?

- No, this is highly illegal without proper licenses
- You could use Teleparty or similar services (<https://www.teleparty.com/>) to watch TV/movies together online. It synchronizes video playback and adds a group chat to Netflix, Disney+, Hulu, HBO Max, and Amazon Prime. It remain legal as individuals need to sign into their personal accounts to participate.
